

Therapeutic phlebotomy services are located near you.

Central Ohio hospitals are working together to ensure that individuals requiring Therapeutic Phlebotomy services are aware of and have access to facilities that can assist them. As you may know, the American Red Cross Central Ohio Blood Services Region discontinued its Therapeutic Phlebotomy program in August 2013. Many local hospitals provide Therapeutic Phlebotomy services and are able to meet your needs. To find a hospital that provides Therapeutic Phlebotomy services close to you, refer to the map below. The phone number of the department that can assist you with scheduling an appointment is also listed. We encourage you to call a hospital near you that provides Therapeutic Phlebotomy services with any questions you may have.
